

Job Title:

Junior Software Developer

Employment Type:

Part Time

Compensation:

TBD

Job Description:

We are looking for a highly skilled software engineer to add to our team. With flexible hours, negotiable pay with possible commission, and the possibility to work from home, this job is an excellent fit for any student or recent graduate.

Become a member of a highly successful start-up, with the opportunity to work on a variety of projects from building websites, to custom software, to mobile gaming.

Qualifications:

Required:

- 2+ years of experience/education
- 20+ hours per week
- Confident in one's ability to work independently
- Highly self-motivated
- Sound understanding of object oriented programming

Preferred:

- Own your computer
- Significant understanding of web stacks
- Knowledge of one or more of the following: C#, Objective-C, JavaScript, Java, Python, PHP, CSS

Company Description:

Tractus is an ever growing group of extremely talented people that share a passion for making the world an easier and more beautiful place to work. We pride ourselves on the quality of our engineers and their ability to solve any problem.

Tractus is built on the belief that all companies' workflows and marketing can and should be made easier. From creating apps or websites for your new start up, to creating custom software solutions for your corporation, we guarantee the best experience you've ever had with a consultant.

To Apply:

Visit <https://tractusonline.com/contact/job/>

Contact Information:

sara.richards@tractusonline.com